

Nikola Jovanovic

FULL STACK WEB DEVELOPER

Profile

UX/UI design-thinking, responsive web design, and creation are my passions. Delighting users by creating web applications that are inspiring, engaging, and memorable is what drives me and motivates me to do more. Experienced in Front-End and Back-End Technologies. I am extremely passionate about approaching programming and design challenges from different angles and collaborating with others to create value-driven web applications and products that delight users and keep them coming back. Being part of a fast-paced, quality-driven team building products that drive true value and increase user-adoption are truly inspiring to me.
